Empathy Map

SAYS • I want to make meaningful industry connections, but icebreakers always feel forced and awkward. • I wish I had a quick cheat sheet summarizing what this conference is actually focusing on.	THINKS What if I run out of things to say right after introducing myself to a mentor or recruiter? Are the technical concepts I want to bring up accurate and relevant to this specific crowd?"
PERSONA NAME (Role / User Type)
DOES • Spends significant time hovering near registration tables or staring at a phone to avoid awkward silences. • Manually searches complex core concepts on a mobile browser right before walking into the venue room.	FEELS • Overwhelmed by massive crowds and unfamiliar engineering acronyms or domains. • Relieved and confident when backed by clear, validated conversation structures.
